INSTRUCTION BOOKLET

KONAMI

WARNING: PLEASE CAREFULLY READ THE PRECAUTIONS BOOKLET INCLUDED WITH THIS PRODUCT BEFORE USING YOUR NINTENDO® HARDWARE SYSTEM, GAME PAK OR ACCESSORY. THIS BOOKLET CONTAINS IMPORTANT SAFETY INFORMATION.

IMPORTANT SAFETY INFORMATION - READ THE FOLLOWING WARNINGS BEFORE YOU OR YOUR CHILD PLAY VIDEO GAMES

WARNING - Seizures

Some people (about 1 in 4000) may have seizures or black outs triggered by light flashes, such as while watching TV or playing video games, even if they have never had a seizure before.

Anyone who has had a seizure, loss of awareness, or other symptom linked to an epileptic condition should consult a doctor before playing a video game.

Parents should watch when their children play video games. Stop playing and consult a doctor if you or your child have any of the following symptoms:

Convulsions
Altered vision

Eye or muscle twitching
Involuntary movements

Loss of awareness
Disorientation

To reduce the likelihood of a seizure when playing video games:

1. Sit or stand as far from the screen as possible.
2. Play video games on the smallest available television screen.
3. Do not play if you are tired or need sleep.
4. Play in a well-lit room.
5. Take a 10 to 15 minute break every hour.

WARNING - Repetitive Motion Injuries

Playing video games can make your muscles, joints or skin hurt after a few hours. Follow these instructions to avoid problems such as Tendonitis, Carpal Tunnel Syndrome or skin irritation:

- Take a 10 to 15 minute break every hour, even if you don't think you need it.
- If your hands, wrists or arms become tired or sore while playing, stop and rest them for several hours before playing again.
- If you continue to have sore hands, wrists or arms during or after play, stop playing and see a doctor.

WARNING - Battery Leakage

Leakage of battery acid can cause personal injury as well as damage to your Game Boy. If battery leakage occurs, thoroughly wash the affected skin and clothes. Keep battery acid away from your eyes and mouth. Leaking batteries may make popping sounds.

To avoid battery leakage:

- Do not mix used and new batteries (replace all batteries at the same time).
- Do not mix alkaline and carbon zinc batteries.
- Do not mix different brands of batteries.
- Do not use nickel cadmium batteries.
- Do not leave used batteries in the Game Boy. When the batteries are losing their charge, the power light may become dim, the game sounds may become weak, or the display screen may be blank. When this happens, promptly replace all used batteries with new batteries.
- Do not leave batteries in the Game Boy or accessory for long periods of non-use.
- Do not leave the power switch on after the batteries have lost their charge. When you finish using the Game Boy, always slide the power switch OFF.
- Do not recharge the batteries.
- Do not put the batteries in backwards. Make sure that the positive (+) and negative (-) ends are facing in the correct directions. Insert the negative end first. When removing batteries, remove the positive end first.
- Do not dispose of batteries in a fire.

Tips for Playing Boktai

If strong sunlight – such as from the midday Sun in summer – enters the Solar Sensor for too long, the Solar Gun will overheat (see P.9). If that should happen, you'll have to find a cool, shady spot where you can wait for the Solar Gun to cool down. If your gun overheats when you're surrounded by enemies, you may find yourself in a very sticky situation. This game does not always require strong sunlight. If you check the Solar Gauge, you will see that even in the shade, sunlight is reflected off walls and the ground. The key is to find a spot with just enough light to comfortably enjoy your Boktai experience. Also, remember that glass windows weaken sunlight. During the day on especially sunny days, the sunlight coming through a window should be sufficient to play. (However, please note that some kinds of glass will filter out the Sun's rays.)

The better you get along with the Sun, the more you'll enjoy this new kind of gaming.

The Story

In a place not far from here and now, the End of the World approaches. The Undead appear, breaking the natural cycle of life and death. The evolution of species ceases... and, one by one, they become extinct.

In the Age of Darkness, when mankind forgot its Sun, the dark race of Immortals rose and turned the City of the Sun, San Miguel, into a city of death. Their dark curse used the Undeading power of dark matter to turn all living beings into Undead....

When at last the strongest Vampire Hunter of them all was felled, all hope seemed lost.

But, that same day, a boy left behind San Miguel and its wandering Undead. The true heir to the Solar Gun "Gun Del Sol," and the blood of Vampire Hunters in his veins, the Solar Boy truly was the last hope.

He headed for Istrakan, the city of death, where the Immortals' end-of-ages meddling had caused different times and places to mingle in confusion.

Armed with only sunlight, will the Solar Boy be able to avenge his father? Will he be able to stop the Undeading? Can he bring back our Sun?

Gameplay

Drag out enemy bosses and purify them!

The object of Boktai is to drag Vampires – the dark race of Immortals – out of their Dungeon homes and into the light of the Sun in order to purify them, thus bringing the Sun back to the world. By evading the many tricks and traps placed throughout Dungeons, your aim is to hunt down enemy bosses, defeat them, and purify them with the Pile Driver.

Game Flow

1. Enter a Dungeon and search for the boss
2. Defeat the boss and put them in their coffin
3. Drag the coffin to the Pile Driver
4. Use the Pile Driver and solar energy to purify the boss
5. Proceed to the next Dungeon

Get the solar energy you'll need to play Boktai from the Solar Sensor!

To rescue the world from darkness and dread, you must become a Vampire Hunter. Track down bosses hidden in the deepest darkest corners of the Dungeons and bring them into the light of day!

The Sun is your ally!

You will need sunlight as you play Boktai. The Solar Sensor on the Boktai Game Pak senses your playing environment and sends sunlight (solar energy) data to the game in real time. Strong sunlight will refill your solar energy battery quickly, and weak sunlight will be less effective.

Solar Energy and the Solar Sensor P.8

Boktai and the Internal Game Clock

Using the clock function embedded in the Game Pak, the screens and content of Boktai change from daytime to nighttime, just as in the real world. The Undead are active and mobile at night, but spend the daylight hours resting deep inside Dungeons.

Setting the Clock P.12*

Solar Energy and the Solar Sensor

Your Energy Source

The Solar Sensor is embedded inside the slit in the back of the label seal side of the Boktai Game Pak, as shown in the diagram on the right. Hold it up so that the Sun's rays can enter and supply you with solar energy.

When Do I Need Solar Energy?

You'll need solar energy to charge your only weapon, the Solar Gun, and to activate the Pile Driver during boss battles. Solar energy detected by the sensor can also change the course of the game in various ways.

Charging the Solar Gun with solar energy

Purifying an enemy boss with the Pile Driver

Holding the Solar Sensor

The amount of sunlight detected by the Solar Sensor is affected by the way it is held. When using the Game Boy® Advance SP, where the slot for the Game Pak is on the bottom, make sure the Solar Sensor isn't in the shade.(*)

*The Solar Sensor functions to some extent even in indirect sunlight or in shade, but the amount of solar energy you can obtain is reduced.

-Beware-

If the Solar Sensor detects too much sunlight within a set period, the Solar Gun may overheat and cease to function for some time.

Warning!

- * Do not let the Solar Sensor get wet, and do not use/store it in conditions of excessive heat or cold.
- * Do not attempt to disassemble or modify the Solar Sensor.

Starting the Game

When starting the game for the first time:

1. Setting the Solar Sensor

Insert the Game Pak in the Game Boy® Advance system and turn the power ON. The Solar Sensor Settings Screen is displayed. Follow the instructions, blocking light from entering the Solar Sensor, located on the upper part of the Game Pak, and press the A Button.

2. Setting the Clock

Set up the clock.

Control Pad: Move cursor and change time

A Button: Set

B Button: Back

Warning!

If the Solar Sensor and Clock are not set correctly, the game may not function properly.

3. Title Screen

Press START or the A Button at the Title Screen to bring up the Main Menu:

When you are happy with the settings, select 'Yes'.

Saving the Game

You can save game data at any point during the Boktai adventure.

- * There are some exceptions, such as during events.
- * Data saved reflects the conditions when you entered the current area.

Saving Data

Press START to pause the game and bring up the Pause Screen. Choose 'Save' from the Menu and enter to save. Wait until the "Saved" message appears before powering off your Game Boy® Advance.

* Sleep Mode P.21

If Your Life Runs Out...

If your Life Gauge is reduced to zero by an enemy or some other cause, your character collapses and the 'Continue?' message appears.

Choose 'YES' to resume the adventure. You will begin exactly as you were when you entered the area where your character was defeated.

Choose 'NO' to end the game. You will lose all data recorded since the last time you saved.

Warning!

Do not remove the Game Pak or power off the Game Boy® Advance system while saving, as this could result in malfunctions.

the Immortals...?!

Vampire Hunter

More than ten years ago, he saved the world from the threat of the Immortals, but fell prey to the Count in the battle for San Miguel. He left our hero with just a crimson scarf and a vestige of hope....

Boktai Characters

The dark race of Immortals. Not from our Solar System, they are opposed to all life. While they cannot die, they can be turned to stone and destroyed by the light of the Sun.

Ghouls

Servants of the Immortals created by Undeading, these creatures are also known as Boks. They set Klorofolun on any intruder they discover. Easily damaged by sunlight.

The Count, Lord of the Vampires

The ruler of the Vampire clan of Immortals, the Count was resurrected by the power of dark matter. His attack on San Miguel lead to its Undeading.

Klorofolun

A spirit of darkness, formed from dark matter, this nasty substance can be destroyed by sunlight.

Clay Golems

Soulless earthen puppets controlled by the Immortals. Especially deadly when they roll into a ball to attack.

The Solar Plant, Solar Fruits and Nuts

What is the Solar Tree?

At a certain point during your adventure in Istrakan, a stage containing the Solar Tree will appear on the Field Map. In the beginning, the Solar Tree is withered and unhealthy, but as you defeat bosses branches will begin to grow, and as the total sunlight collected increases, new green leaves will begin to sprout. If all goes well, the Solar Tree will eventually be restored to its original glory.

The Solar Plant

At the base of the Solar Tree there are hollows (empty spaces in the tree's roots) where things can be grown. Plant solar fruits and nuts in these hollows and harvest them later!

Some Solar Fruits and Nuts

-  Green Apple: Health boost (small)
-  Red Apple: Health boost (medium)
-  Gold Apple: Health boost (large)
-  Speed Nut: Speeds you up
-  Banana: Makes you strong
-  Flame Nut: Reduces flame damage
-  Ice Nut: Reduces ice damage
-  Solar Nut: Recharges solar gun battery

Grow solar fruits and nuts in the Solar Plant at the base of the Solar Tree, and once harvested, you can use the fruits and nuts as items!

Growing Solar Fruits and Nuts

1. Press the A Button in front of a hollow at the base of the Solar Tree. You will be asked if you want to plant a solar fruit or nut.

2. A list of solar fruits and nuts will be shown on the Item Screen. Move the cursor by pressing up and down on the Control Pad, select a solar fruit or nut with the A Button, and press START. (You cannot select items that are not solar fruits or nuts.) Choose up to two solar fruits and nuts. To cancel, select 'No'.

3. A sprout will appear where you planted the fruit/nut.

When only one fruit/nut is planted:
A single solar fruit or nut will produce 2-4 solar fruits.
Plant it with a Fast Carrot and it will grow twice as fast.
Plant it with a X2 Carrot and it will yield a bigger harvest; 4-10 solar fruits.

When two fruits/nuts are planted
Combinations yield different results.
Experiment!

4. Solar fruits automatically grow from sprout to plant to fruit, based on how much sunlight has entered the Solar Sensor. Speed of growth varies by type.

5. Press the A Button in front of a hollow with fruit to harvest. Harvested fruits and nuts are automatically added to the Item Screen. Note that ripe fruits and nuts will rot after a time if they are not harvested.

Other Game Features

Otenko Panels

You will find these panels throughout the Dungeons. Press the A Button in front of an Otenko Panel to summon Master Otenko and get his opinion. At the beginning of the game, Master Otenko will automatically appear and offer some pertinent advice.

Solar Stations

These machines automatically store solar energy detected by the Solar Sensor. Stored energy can be transferred to the Solar Gun at any point, even at night. The number above the station is the amount of solar energy remaining. To transfer energy, hold down the A Button in front of the station.

A Selection of Items

Redshroom

A mushroom with a peculiar effect.

Empty Gourd

Warp out of the Dungeon.

Dark Card

Summons Dark Loans.

Silver Coin

A silver coin. Collect them for a rainy day...

Here are a few of the special features you'll encounter in the game.

The Sun Bank & Dark Loan Corporation

At the Sun Bank, you can deposit solar energy stored in Solar Stations.

Deposited energy collects interest, so you can use the bank to boost your energy supply. The Dark Loan Corporation lets you borrow solar energy. Naturally, you must pay back what you borrow.

Remember to read the fine print!

Sun Bank Accounts

Boktai lets you save two different game data files, allowing two players to play with a single Game Pak. The game data files keep game progress separate, but the Sun Bank account (where energy is deposited) is the same, meaning one player can withdraw energy deposited by the other player.

Items can be obtained by defeating enemies and growing solar fruits and nuts (see P.33), as well as from treasure chests.

Solar Leaf

Takes you to the Solar Tree.

See-All Nut

Lets you see hidden objects.

Fool Card

Makes you restart from the beginning of the area.

Sol Emblem

Opens sealed doors.

*Hm.... Something's sparkling....
Fire the Solar Gun and crystalline objects appear.... They're Solar Bugs!
Come on, pick 'em up!*

Hints for Adventurers

You'll need sunlight to play Boktai, but you can still play even when it's dark. However, to use the Pile Driver and purify bosses, you absolutely must have sunlight. If the Solar Gauge reaches zero during battle, you will be unable to start the Pile Driver and purify the boss.

Solar Bug

Moon Bug

Darkness Bug

Solar Bugs, Moon Bugs & Darkness Bugs

When you use the Solar Gun in the Dungeon, crystalline objects will sometimes appear on the ground. These are called Solar Bamboo Shoots, and living inside them are different kinds of Spirit Bugs. Spirit bugs come in three types: Solar Bugs, which restore energy to your solar gun battery; Moon Bugs, which restore your life; and Darkness Bugs, which suck energy from your solar gun battery. You should run away from Darkness Bugs, but you can draw other Spirit Bugs towards you with the A Button.

Find the Skylights!

There's very little sunlight inside the Dungeons, so it's hard to collect energy for your Solar Gun. But in some places inside the Dungeons, you'll find Skylights where you can collect energy (Solar Charge), if you have sunlight. You can also use Skylights to damage the Undead, if you can lure them underneath one!

Here are a couple of small but important hints.

How to Get Through Undetected

You can avoid unnecessary battles by watching your enemies' movements and running undetected behind them, as well as by knocking on walls, attracting their attention, and then sneaking around via another route. You can also stun enemies quickly and easily by firing a Solar Shot at them from behind. Stunned enemies are immobilized for a set period of time, allowing you to sneak past.

Marks Above Undead

The marks and bubbles above Undead (enemies) show their current state.

All these hints! It's practically a walkthrough!

Shown when the enemy discovers your character.

Shown when the enemy senses your character's presence. This mark may appear when an enemy spies you from afar or hears a suspicious noise. However, this doesn't mean that they've found you.

Shown when the enemy discovers your character, but not counted on the Results Screen.

Shown when the enemy has lost sight of your character. The question mark means he's given up looking for you.

Shown when stunned by your attack. When three dots appear, the enemy wakes up. Extend the stun period by firing another Shot.

Shown when knocked unconscious by your attack. When all the stars disappear, the enemy wakes up.

Shown when sleeping. The enemy wakes up when touched or attacked.

Indoor and Outdoor Areas

Dungeons have both indoor and outdoor areas.

Sunlight entering the Solar Sensor is sent directly into the game universe in outdoor areas, meaning you're free to use the Solar Charge. But sunlight can't make it indoors, so you can't charge, even if sunlight is hitting the Game Pak sensor.

The one exception is underneath a Skylight, where you can Solar Charge and damage any Undead enemies you can lure there, as long as there's sunlight in the real world.

Sunlight Affects the Game!

Some Dungeon traps and devices are affected by sunlight. For instance, puddles of water will dry up when exposed to sunlight, and in some areas the wind is stronger when the Sun is shining. Some Undead get sloppy and reveal their hiding places when sunlight is weak, while others move more slowly when exposed to sunlight. Sunlight is needed to start up the Pile Driver during battles, and the stronger the sunlight is, the more powerful the attack with the Pile Driver becomes.

4 Players 3

Connecting the Game Boy® Advance Game Link® Cable(s)

1. Make sure that each Game Boy® Advance system's power switch is set to OFF before inserting a Boktai Game Pak into each system.
2. Connect the Game Link® Cables to each other, then to each system's external expansion connector.

3. Turn each system's power switch ON.
4. Follow the instructions for link play on P.42.

If two or three players are playing, do not connect systems and cables that will not be used. The player whose system is connected to the small plug becomes 1P.

Refer to the diagram on the next page when connecting Game Link® Cables and systems. (Note the plug sizes.)

Connecting systems and Game Link® Cables

Link Play Warnings

The following can cause systems to fail to link properly or malfunction:

- Using a cable other than the Game Boy® Advance Game Link® Cable
- Failing to insert the Game Link® Cable completely
- Removing the Game Link® Cable while linked
- Failing to connect Game Link® Cable(s)/systems properly
- Connecting five or more systems

Using the Game Boy® Advance Game Link® Cable

Link Play

Rules

For 2-4 players. The player who earns the most multiplayer points* within the time limit wins.

*What are Multiplayer Points?

Multiplayer points are calculated from the number of coins held, number of rival players defeated, and number of times life reaches zero.

Coins

Five coins are available in link play. At the start of play each player has one coin, with the remainder held by Undead (enemies). Enemies and rival players drop coins when defeated. Touch dropped coins to pick them up.

Link Play Game Flow

1. Once the cables are connected, turn your Game Boy®

Advance ON and select 'LINK' from the Title Screen. Then Select 'Link Play' from the Link Menu.

2. Choose parts for your Solar Gun before entering head-to-head battle.

3. The Entry Screen appears (see diagram above). During loading, player names are shown in red, blue, yellow, and green along with their entry status. (Your character's box is highlighted green.)

Once everyone is connected, Player 1 selects 'START'.

ENTRY: Multiplayer entry complete.

WAIT: Establishing link.

NOT LINKED: Not connected or link not established.

Players 2-4 enter Standby Mode.

Setting Multiplayer Rules

Play for Solar Energy

Choose whether to play for the energy the players have collected in their Solar Stations. (Cannot be selected if one or more players entered lacks sufficient energy.)

Life Gauge

Choose whether to use the individual Life Gauge levels from the regular game or to set each player's Life Gauge at the same level.

Time Limit

Set the time limit for the multiplayer game.

Stage

Set the multiplayer game stage. Select 'Random' to have the stage assigned randomly.

In Link Play, players fight with the solar gun parts collected in the regular game. You can also earn items based on head-to-head results and points!

Once the multiplayer rules have been set, press START to begin the game.

The coins held by each player are displayed under the Life Gauge. The red, blue, yellow, and green marks are coins held by individual players, while the purple mark shows coins on the floor or held by enemies.

Multiplayer play ends when the set game time expires. The Results Screen is then shown. You will be asked if you want a rematch.

Select 'YES' to move to the Solar Gun Screen and resume multiplayer battle.

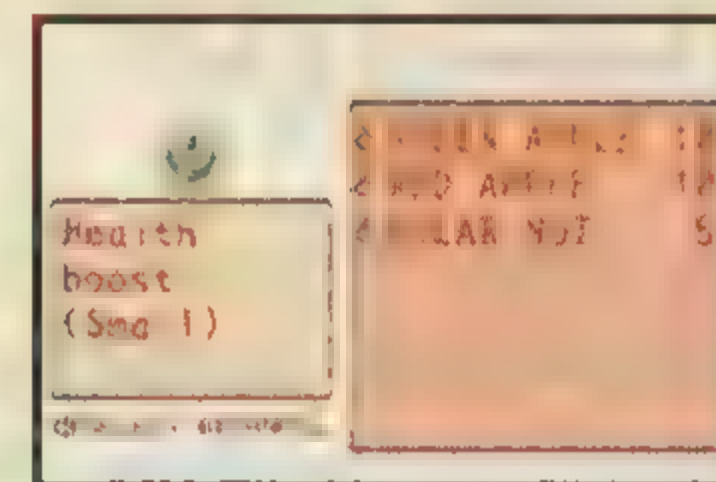

If you select 'NO', total multiplayer points earned are shown. If the points exceed a certain number, you'll earn a prize item. (If 'Play for Solar Energy' is set to ON, the energy in your Solar Station will be boosted.) Data is then saved and link play ends.

Warning! (See Connecting the Game Boy® Advance Game Link® Cable, P.41.)

Be sure to connect the Game Link® Cable with the power OFF. Do not disconnect the Game Link® Cable during link play.

Item Trading

This two-player Link Mode allows you to trade items obtained in the regular game with a friend. Each player picks an item and the items are swapped. Note, however, that some items cannot be traded, including the Solar Leaf, Life Fruit, Fool Card, Dark Card, silver coins, keys, and Emblems.

How to Trade Items

1. As in step 1 of Link Play Game Flow (P.44) select 'LINK' from the Title Screen, select saved data to load, and select 'Item Trade' from the Link Menu.

2. Select an item to trade from the Item Screen.

3. The item obtained is displayed, saved on the Save Screen, and the game then returns to the Link Menu.

Emblem Copying

Emblems are rare items that become available in the regular game after your character first visits the Azure Sky Tower. They are hidden behind the Emblem Doors in the Azure Sky Tower. Each player will get a different Emblem from the tower, but by using 2-player Emblem Copying in Link Mode, players can acquire each other's Emblems.

Using Emblem Copying

1. The Emblems held by each player are shown and Emblem Copying begins.

2. If you have an Emblem that can be unlocked, the "The XYZ Emblem has been unlocked" success message is shown, the data is saved on the Data Screen, and the game returns to the Link Menu. If there is no Emblem to be unlocked, the message "No Emblem available to be unlocked" is shown and the game returns to the Link Menu.

- * Emblems obtained through Emblem Copying are shown with the original owner's name in the Item List.

- * You cannot select Emblem Copying if there are no Emblems in your possession.

- * You can get Emblems in other places than the Azure Sky Tower in the regular game, but only Emblems acquired in the Azure Sky Tower can be used for Emblem Copying. You cannot use Emblem Copying until you acquire an Emblem from the Azure Sky Tower.
